THE
I. C. NORCOM
HIGH SCHOOL
PORTSMOUTH, VIRGINIA
1963

AERIAL VIEW OF DOWNTOWN PORTSMOUTH

Pictured above is our thriving fair city of 115,000 population. It is situated at the hub of Tidewater Virginia. Nestled within this fast growing city is our dear I. C. Norcom High School which was opened in 1953 at a cost of more than $2,650,000.

DEDICATION

The unforeseen future is a maze of reckonings, crises, failures and triumphs. To avoid being lost in the cataclysms of life, the screening gyroscope of education must be imbedded tenaciously in the mind. As the body develops mentally, this gyroscope will become a part of the individual.

However, education is not a fortuity. It is like a tree which must have proper pruning in order to produce fruits of the highest degree. Education begins with the initiative of individuals who have a sincere desire to contribute to the betterment of humanity.

In this situation, it is you, the citizens of Portsmouth, who have taken without hesitance the initial step and provided educational facilities for us, the fortunate students. You have given us the choice to make our lives richer and fuller. You have also presented us the gyroscope with which to guide us through life's rugged course and prevent us from being entrapped by ignorance which is the breeding place of heinous prejudices. It is you who have been pruners of the tree of education.

Although a dedication of this yearbook to you is infinitesimal when compared to repayment for your zeal and uninhibited succor, we, the students of I. C. Norcom High School, in honor of our Tenth Anniversary, without a scruple, do in all integrity and sincere appreciation, dedicate the 1963 Yearbook, to you, the citizens of Portsmouth, who were concerned and have adequately equipped us for our journey onto the burning sands of life where many a stalwart foot has already dared to tread and sow a seed of hope.

FOREWORD

Although the ten year history of the new I. C. Norcom High School is relatively short, the events constituting it are of such a momentous nature that these ten years, 1953-1963, are an epoch in the history of mankind.

The rate of inventions and activities of this decade is almost unbelievable. A conventional age of guns has suddenly whirled into a nuclear age of inter-continental ballistic missiles, atomic powered submarines, and neutron bombs. "Sputnik," "astronaut," "cosmonaut," "anti-anti aircraft" have entered into the modern vocabulary. A new President, Governor, Congress are elected. "The old order changeth yielding place to new . . ." Everything is changing except change itself! These events also spell out a meaning for the Norcom High School graduate. This meaningful decade composing the new school's entire history in which the world has made a complete turnabout has thrust him vis-a-vis with a completely new world of expansion -- expansion that has been felt in the school itself when the new annex was completed in 1962 and when there was an increase in faculty, student body, and graduating classes. New fields and goals are opening everyday forcing the graduate to become the challengee instead of challenger.

This is the history. These are the facts. Here is the world. Will the future surpass this significant decade in the history of the new I. C. Norcom High School?

NORCOM'S SCHOLASTIC TEAM (First Semester)

By maintaining the highest in scholastic achievement, the above Norcom scholars were named to the school's Scholastic Team in an area wide effort sponsored by a local newspaper. One of the school team members was then named to the Tidewater Scholastic Team, a signal honor indeed.

From left to right are Sheryll A. Drake, Constance Belton, Dorothy Haroleen Davis, Margery B. Atkins, Richard A. Todd, Hayes Willis and Hortense L. Howell. Absent was Barry Smith shown at right.

Below is Barry Smith, honor graduate of the January 1963 class. Barry is a symbol of the best in scholarship that we tried to accomplish while here at Norcom. Barry was a former president of the Student Council and a member of the Tidewater Scholastic Team.

BARRY SMITH

DRAMATICS CLUB

At left Earl Sydnor, noted television star, dropped in on one of the dramatics classes. While here we learned that he would soon appear on a national dramatic series.

"All the world's a stage," said Shakespeare. The Norcom Dramatics Club gave many a noteworthy production.

At right Mr. Sydnor enjoys a laugh with his most interested audience.

Mrs. Askew and her husband joined Dramatics Club for one of its productions.

RALPH BUNCHE SOCIAL STUDIES CLUB

Learning and practicing the fundamentals of democracy were the prime considerations of the Ralph Bunche Social Studies Club. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. W. A. B. Jones, the group this year was an outstanding one in many respects. The president was Seymore Wray.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club sought to inspire its members to become curious about the world around us. Officers shown at right are Charles Yancey, Shirley Wilson, James Royal, Hortense Howell, Arthur Wall and Yolanda Peterson. Mrs. Ethel Foreman is sponsor of the club.

THE I. C. NORCOM SENIOR BAND
MR. EMERY FEARS, CONDUCTOR

At right James Royal presents a check to Bandmaster Mr. Fears to help band in its uniform drive. We were all made to feel glad when the band went over the top in its drive. But we'll miss those donut sales, fruitcake sales and don't forget the Christmas trees.

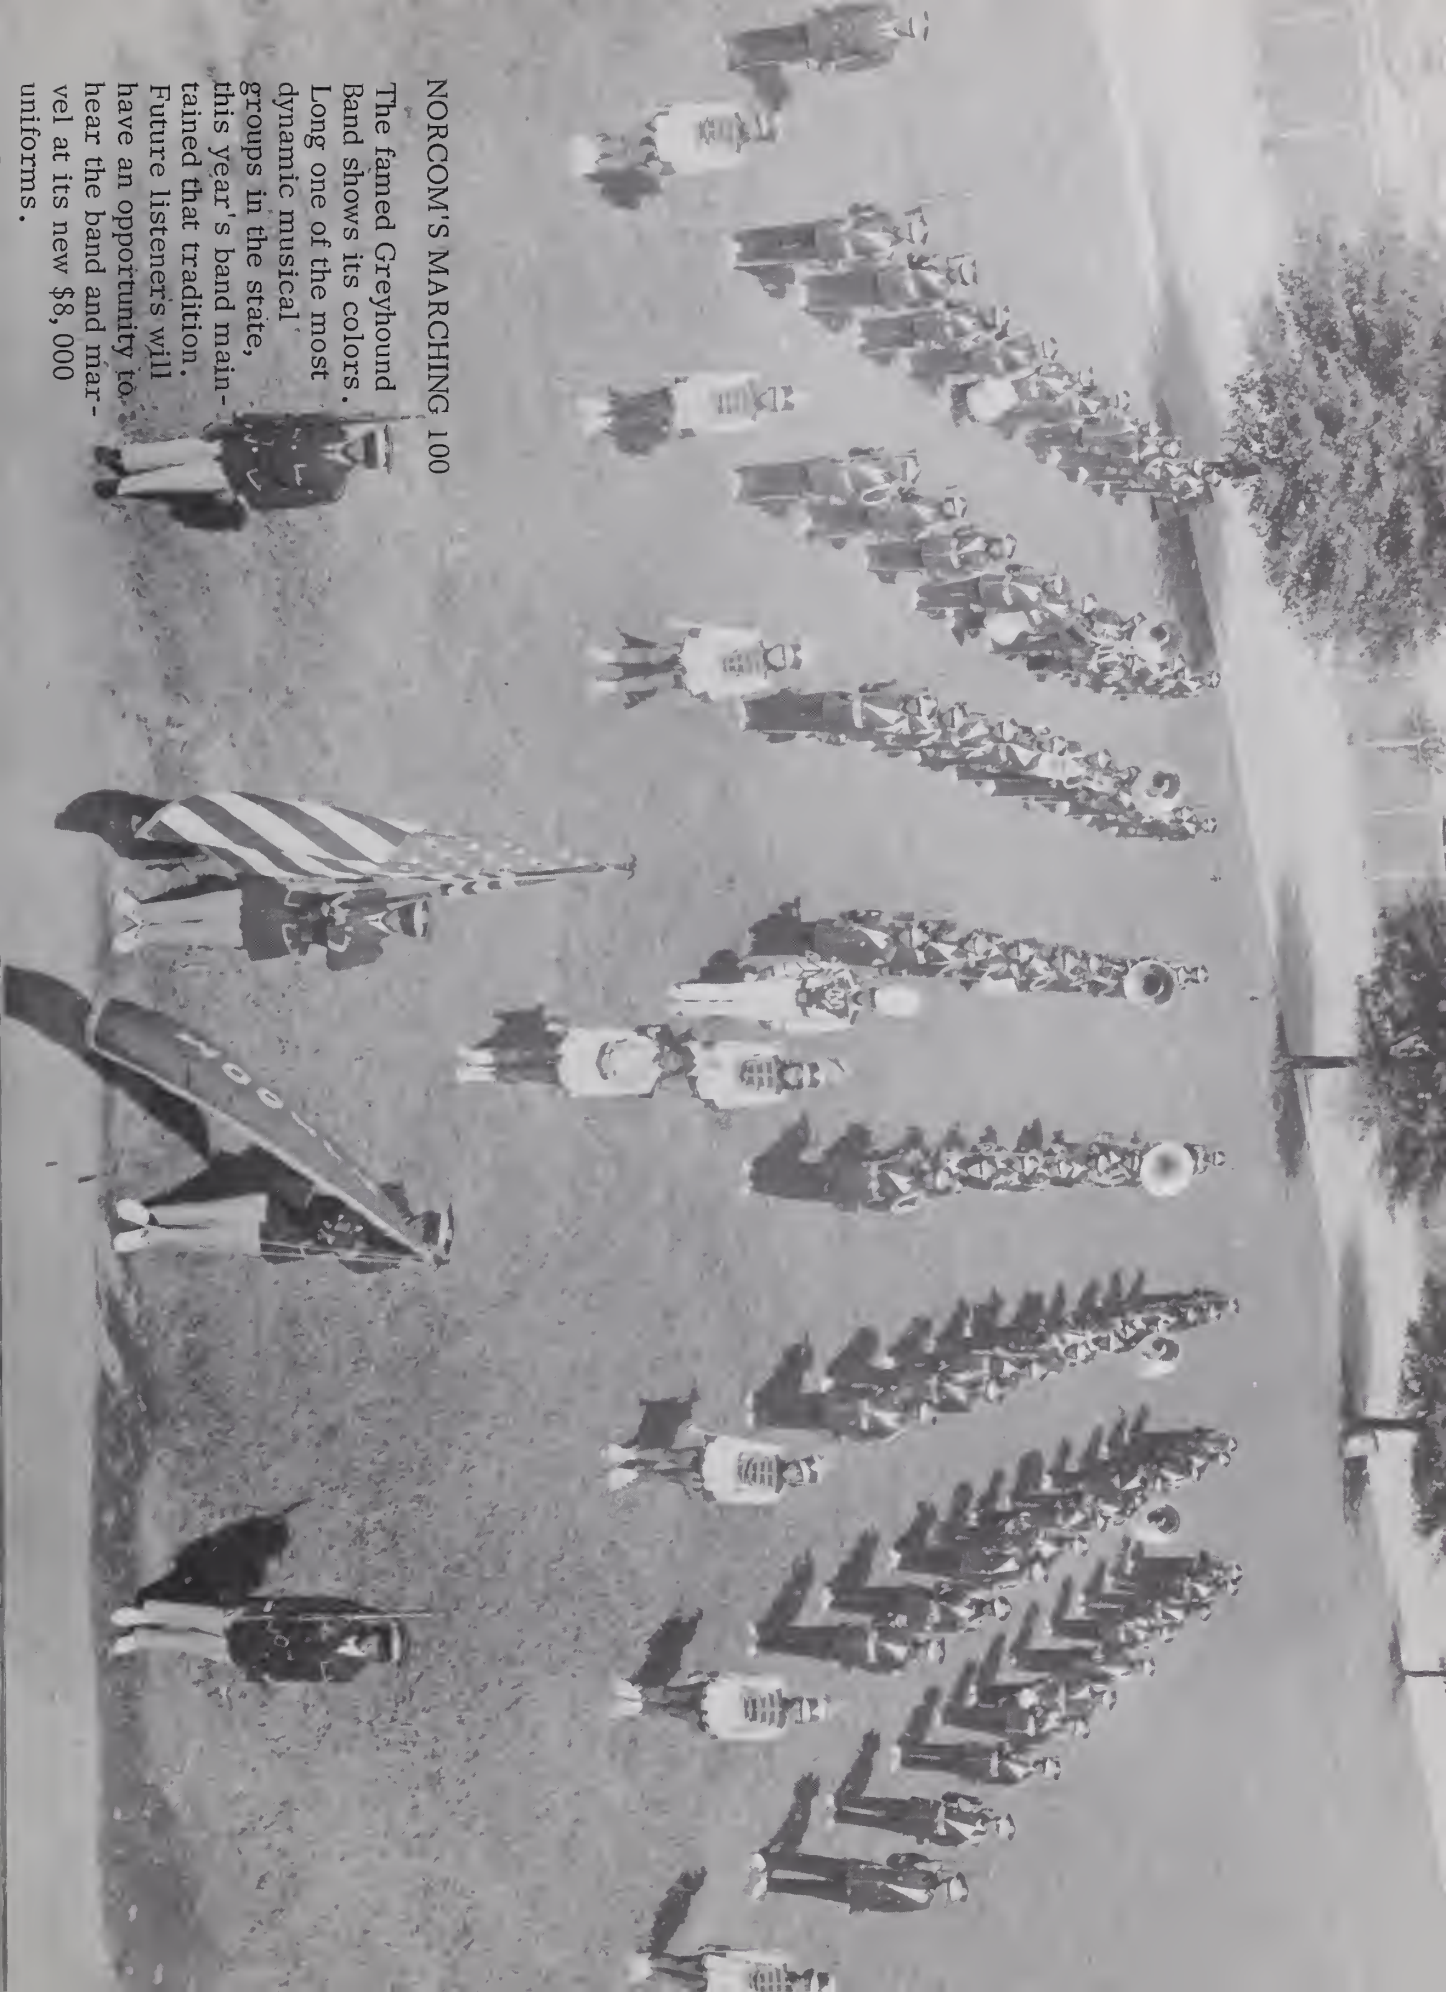

And what's a good band without a top flight color guard? This picture was taken during a halt in the Homecoming activities.

"That line is crooked," Mr. Fears seems to be saying as he watches band going through a routine on the practice parade field. Looking on is student Hayes Willis.

NORCOM'S MARCHING 100

The famed Greyhound Band shows its colors. Long one of the most dynamic musical groups in the state, this year's band maintained that tradition. Future listeners will have an opportunity to hear the band and marvel at its new $8,000 uniforms.

THE I. C. NORCOM SENIOR CHORUS

This more than 100 piece singing aggregation was the pride of our hearts. We shall always remember those stirring renditions during assembly programs and especially the wonderful Christmas and Easter concerts.

MR. MELVIN LEWIS, CONDUCTOR

THE I. C. NORCOM CHORUS

HOMEcoming 1962

Homecoming, 1962 turned out to be a most memorable occasion. It is amazing the amount of planning and work that went into making the event a success. First there was the selection of the candidates. Then came the most difficult choice of selecting the "Queen," especially after that wonderful talent shown by all of the candidates on the talent program. Floats were made and the parade got underway.

On the big night, lovely Margery Atkins was crowned "Miss Homecoming" and the cheering throng urged Norcom to victory over Mary N. Smith High School.

BEHOLD THE ROYAL COURT! Janice Choate, Joan Revell, Joyce Harrison and Janet Bailey. On the throne is Queen Margery Atkins.

These lovely lassies represented the Future Teachers of America. Shown are Eloise Johnson, Shirley Chesson, Yvonne Brown and Anna Swann.

HER HONOR and court
after the crowning.

Mrs. Margaret White, retired Norcom teacher, had the honor of crowning the Queen. The lovely Margery Atkins retaliates with a smile.

And of course, James Royal was the lucky lad chosen to escort the Queen to the football field.

ON THIS DAY

On this day I'm thankful to remember;
There's so much to be thankful for.
On this day remembering my blessings
I ask, "How could I ask for more?"
There is love in my house and work for my hands,
A welcome on each face I see.
I have roots; I belong;
There is hope in my song.
I walk in the sun
Proud and free.
America, I give my thanks
For giving this to me!

FRESHMAN HOPEFULS

As the good ship "Senior Class" pulled out an eager group of freshmen embarked on their maiden voyage. Shown are: Kenneth Lallard, Cheryl Willis, Amanda Battle, Chieko McCoy, Phillip Haywood and Carolyn Brown.

PROM TIME NORCOM HIGH

The 1962 prom was an outstanding one in all respects. The decorations, the music and the atmosphere all were combined to make for an affair of dignity. From left to right, Mr. Brisbon, Mrs. Wimbush, Harry King, Joseph Johnson, Antoinette Jones, and Paul Singleton are seen. Ship captain is Jerome Taylor.

THE FACULTY FROLICS . . .

"Just what I needed."

Mr. Waters beams upon receiving gift from the faculty. Making presentation is Mrs. Turner.

HOW THE SENIORS DID PLAY ON KIDDIE DAY

It was like "crazy" down in the gym for the 4B's party. Dig those snazzy costumes! Kiddie Day is one of the highlights of the senior activities. When the students "twist," "chicken" or wobble down the aisles, it's a sight to behold. This year's midterm class had plenty of life.

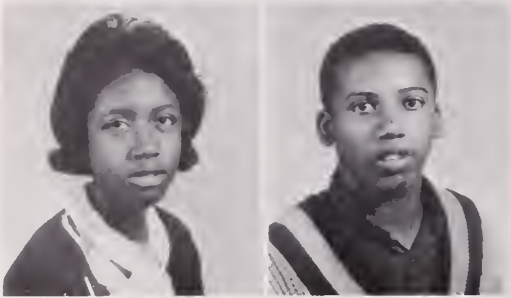

William McCleave and Brenda Battle (In front) had important roles in the Kiddie Day skit.

Vivian White singing a solo? No, I think she's reading the will or something.

Future Norcomites got in line to donate money to band uniform drive. They really represented The Young Sportsmen Club.

Everybody loves a ship. At least these Norcom boys have an interest in the model found in the library. Shown here are James Royal, Roosevelt Street, James Wood, Robert Windley, Melvin Myrick, Russell Jones and Theolonious Forbes.

It was indeed a family affair as Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan appeared in one of the Fine Arts Festival productions.

THE FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

This annual series sponsored by the Guidance Department has become one of the highlights of the school year. Only the best in music, drama and dance is featured on these outstanding programs.

Mr. Fears seemed to be in hot pursuit as he prepared the concert band for its role in the Fine Arts Festival. The band, chorus, Dramatic Club and Modern Dance group combined in a series of high type programs which will never be forgotten.

The area near Norcom resembled an atomic test site during Homecoming week. Here a group of students and teachers work on a float for the Science Department.

FACULTY TALENT SHOW

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was the theme for the teacher talent show held in the auditorium. The faculty displayed a tremendous amount of talent. Routines ranged from classical songs and instrumental numbers to rock and roll.

No! No! The idea is to make it seem like one continuous action, Mr. Garrett, Mrs. Jarrell and Miss Solmon practice for faculty sensation.

The Cast: TOP ROW: Mr. Diggs, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Askew, Mr. Moore, Miss Johnson, Mr. Hayes, Miss Hampton, Mr. Cannon, Miss Oliphant, Mrs. Jarrell and Mr. Page; BOTTOM: Miss Crump, Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Hyater, Miss Solmon, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Orton, Mrs. Wimbush, Miss Norman, Mrs. Finney, Miss Cooper, Miss Clarke and Mr. Martin. KNEELING: Miss Avery, Mr. James Smith and Mrs. Hill.

THOSE WERE THE

Congratulations or money?

Getting the SCAT and STEP tests ready for the poor freshmen.

Fighting Greyhound, Harry Short.

Three cheers for the Norcom Cheerleaders!

GOOD OLE DAYS

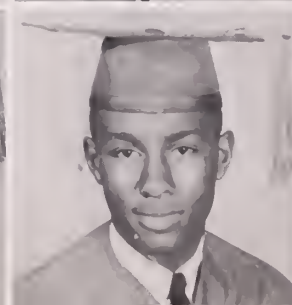

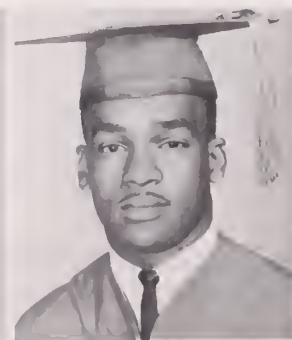

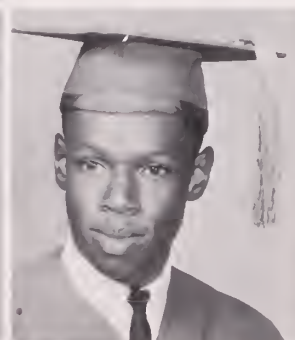

More commencement.

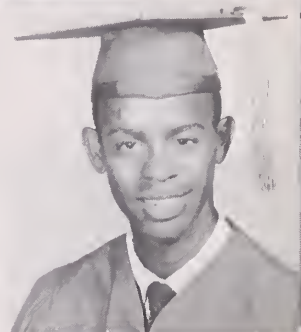

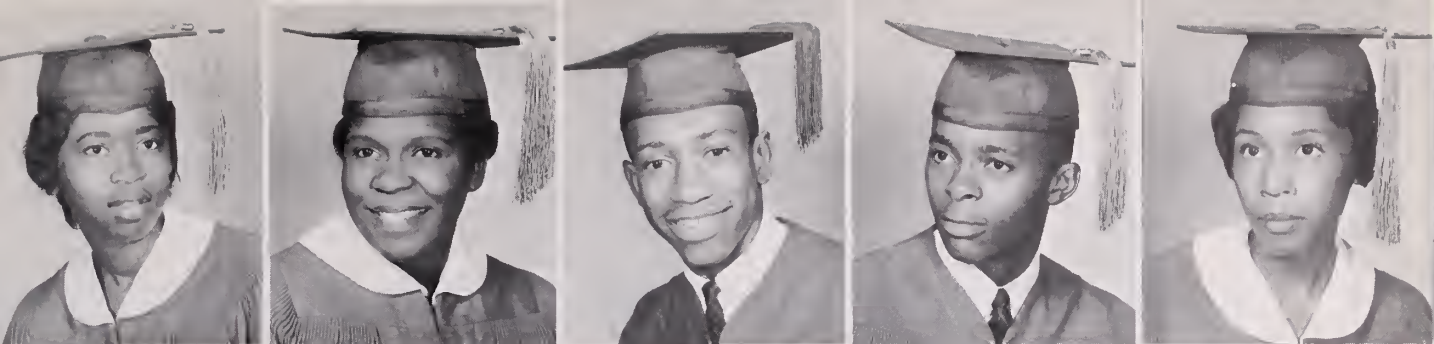

Never let it be said that there is nothing to that Norcom "spirit." We were there and were a part of it. We know that it is as real as the air you breathe.

ADMINISTRATI

Mrs. D. Rainey of the Guidance Department and Mr. O. Paige, head of the English Department, are an example of faculty cooperation in the proper advice and guidance of students. Shown here is John Whitfield discussing problem.

Efficiency is at its peak in the Business Department. Mrs. C. Roberts illustrates this in the above photograph.

ON AND FACULTY

An excellent teaching staff is the result of endless planning and research. Miss Oliphant, Mr. Wyche, Mrs. Jarrell, and Mrs. Harrison exemplify this in the picture above as they meet in teachers' lounge.

The faculty is constantly striving to improve their teaching skills to meet the challenge of tomorrow's world which the student of today must face. These efforts require many time consuming projects, but they are done with the spirit and dedication possessed only by true lovers of education.

Mrs. Waters, head of the Guidance Department, Mr. Beamer and Mrs. Taylor, who are guidance counselors, are shown reviewing information that will keep them abreast of the students' needs.

English

Mrs. Orton helps Jose Benton with his assignment. Looking on is Robert Watts.

Mr. Saunders makes a point.

Mr. Paige, department chairman, is all smiles as he assists Jacqueline Taylor during writing activity.

Mrs. Wimbush poses a question to one of her classes.

"Why can't I say that?" asks Eric Turner of Mrs. Gavin.

Mrs. Vaughan lectures.

Miss Norman pauses at day's end.

Split infinitives or fractured verbs -- We learned to steer around these in Mrs. Askew's class.

Mr. Ricks lectures.

Mrs. Paige shows them how.

English VIII was just great under Mrs. Purdie.

Department

Miss Williams checks blackboard problem.

Mrs. Hortense Edwards, department chairman, scans board work.

"Check your addition again," says Miss Clarke to section of students. And they're talking about getting new mathematics.

Nurse and Special Education

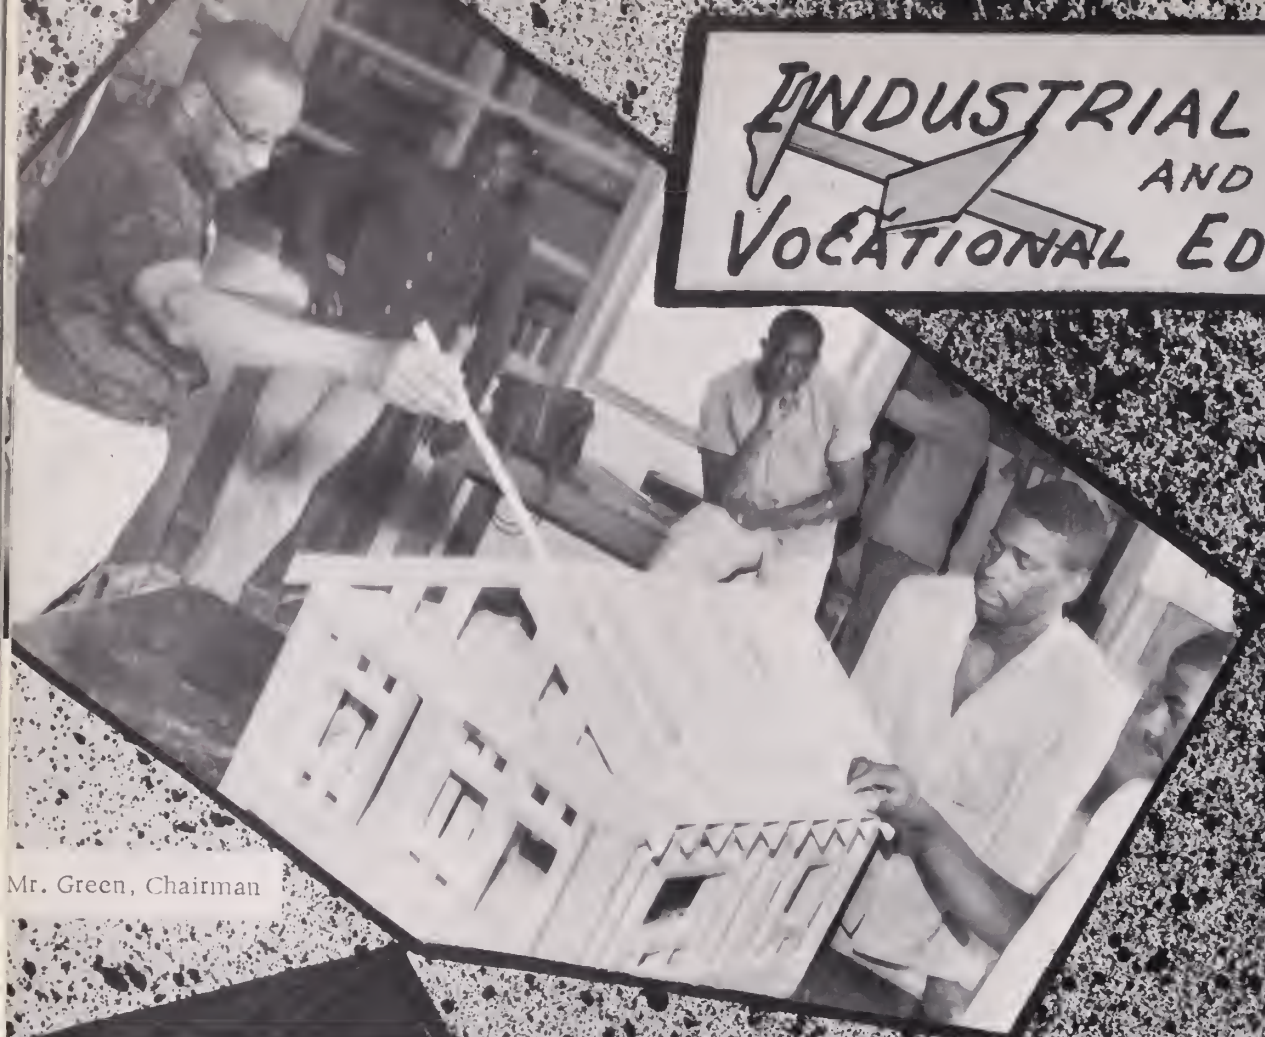

"You're putting on pounds,"
Nurse Blackburn tells student during annual physical checkup.

Mr. Fitchett

Mr. Hall

Mr. Moody

Art Department

"Beauty is truth" and art is beauty. Mrs. Maryland Smith puts one of her classes through an exercise in sketching. This year a course in art history was added to the curriculum.

"Here's how it's done," says Mr. Martin of the art faculty. Remember those lovely creations we turned out.

Homemaking Department

Mrs. Bradley gathers material for class in clothing.

Mrs. Turner, department head, demonstrates for Cheryl Fletcher, Eldeana Hathaway, Mary Bazemore, Carolyn Potts, Deloris Price, Louise White, Lorean Coleman, Brenda Belfiedl and Gloria Taylor.

Mrs. C. F. Davis at work. Learning to set table are Bettie Moore, Evelyn Jenkins, and Shirley Sullivan.

Norcom was pleasantly surprised when one of its first homemaking teachers, Mrs. Maude Scurlock Clarke.

Mrs. Roberts gives Carolyn Davis in varityping. It wasn't as easy as it looked.

BUSINESS

From left to right: Gloria Hooper, Aquilla Staton, Joyce Gaymon, Beverly Carr and Alma Jones.

NOW TO THE BUSINESS AT HAND . . . It was not monkey business in general business and Miss Cooper was seeing to that.

Mr. Williams and Mrs. Smith, chairman of Business Department, check transcription of Barbara Harris. We thought we'd never get out of that office machines class.

Mrs. Ruth Waters, chairman of Guidance Department, gives timely advice to Ramona Copeland and Geraldine Williams.

A shoulder to cry on was often provided by Mrs. Rainey, one of the counselors.

GUIDANCE

"Will I be able to get in college?" was just one of the questions we asked in the guidance office. Mrs. Taylor listens to student query.

It takes a lot of planning to run an effective guidance program. Here Mrs. Waters, Mr. Beamon, Mrs. Rainey and Mr. Harmon discuss a problem.

Harriett Goodrich and Mrs. Vick check student record. We welcomed those Guidance Department appointment slips.

Mr. Watts gives early morning greeting to history class.

Mrs. Foster gets involved in interesting social studies discussion.

Social Studies

At right Mrs. Williamson checks progress of students.

Remember Mrs. Cooke and Senior History?

Mr. James Smith makes a point.

Mrs. Jones, chairman of the department, admires well-done assignment.

At right Mrs. Wilks pauses at blackboard to listen to student response.

Mrs. Cox always had interesting classes in geography. Here she teaches from a striking bulletin board. Shown are Louise Lofton, Gloria Fields, Naomi Anderson, Lillie Graves, Ruby Briggs and Mrs. Cox.

Mr. Sneed in world history.

Miss Hampton on Greece and Rome.

Mr. C. Smith in a world situation.

Department of Health and Physical Education

"I know! I know the answer, Mr. Strayhorn," remark the members of fifth period health class.

Steady! That's it! By jove, you've done it! Mr. McNeil, student teacher from Virginia State College, watches as members of a boys' gym class form a human pyramid.

It seems to be all in the foot as gym teacher Miss Johnson shows Demetria Johnson technique used in a popular sport.

Physical Education Department

Mrs. Colden shows prospective majorettes a twirling routine.

Chairman of the department, Mr. McGriff gets an enthusiastic response from members of his health class. We never knew there were so many bones, muscles and tissues in the body until test time.

"Straighten out those backs," bellows Coach Smith.

WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN

This was a good year in many ways. Our athletic teams continued their winning ways. Our band and choir were again outstanding. But best of all, our student body was a fine one which got the most out of the many opportunities available.

Clarence Todd in gym.

AND THERE WAS NEVER A DULL MOMENT . . .

Student Council officers take time out from a busy schedule of planning and legislating. Highlight of the Student Council year was the scheduled meeting of the state convention.

"Now let's be calm about this thing." Students show more of their dramatic ability.

There's more to building a brick wall than meets the eye explains Mr. Green to building trades student.

SCHOOL BOARD OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

"A little learning is a dangerous thing. Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring." Believing this, a dedicated group of Portsmouth citizens sought to make available to us only the best in equipment, teachers and school buildings. Our School Board, champion of a democratic education.

OUR BELOVED PRINCIPALS

THE VIEW FROM THE TOP. . . Cameraman caught our beloved principal, Mr. Waters, in early-morning pose in his office. Although carrying a tremendous administrative burden, he always had the doors of his office open to all.

"And where was Mr. Edwards, our assistant principal?" Why, he was in the office counting all the money, just one of his many duties.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1963 Greyhound, which serves as a record of the school's accomplishments in the past year, is also the product of those who rendered their services unselfishly. Only through their zealous efforts has this yearbook been made possible.

For this we are greatly indebted to: our instructors who have willingly and without restraint given their valuable time and priceless guidance; businessmen who showed their faith and support by purchasing advertisements; the photographers who made words into pictures; the faculty, patrons, student body and community who played their indispensable roles superbly in the production of the 1963 yearbook.

Special thanks goes to the following students who succeeded in obtaining the large number of patrons and the ads: Ora Brown, Robert Jones, Joyce Harrison, Lawrence Owes, Gwendolyn Salley, Marjorie Spencer, Shirley Moore, Eloise Johnson and Linda Cooke.

We Are

Grateful

For Your . . .
